Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-9, drawn to stationery accessory system, classified in class 40, subclass 641.
 - II. Claims 10-14, drawn to method of making a stationary accessory, classified in class 156, subclass 64.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process such as folding a sheet into a C-shaped rail member, attaching the C-shaped rail member to the edge of planar member, folding a second index tab sheet in a general T-shape sliding the T-shaped index tab sheet into the C-shaped rail member.
3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
4. During a telephone conversation with Gary Engleson on February 18, 2005 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group 1, claims 1-9. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 10-14 have been withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Art Unit: 3611

Specification

5. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

6. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it is too long. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Koto, Japanese Publication JP 10217664 A.

9. With 1, 5, and 7-9, Koto teaches an indexing fitting structure for folder or divider comprising: a slidable index tab (4, 14, 2434, 44) and a sheet member 1, 11,40. The sheet member includes a rail comprising protrusions 2, 12, 22, and 42 as seen in figures 4, 7, 8, and 10 and recesses 32 a seen in figure 9. The index tab includes channels with recesses 5, 15, 35, 25, and 45, wherein the channel have a Longitudinal opening narrower than a widest interior width of the channel measured parallel to the longitudinal opening

10. With respect to claims 2, 3, 5, and 6 Koto teaches the rail is integral with the sheet member. See figures 1-9.

11. With respect to claim 4, Koto teaches the rail is removably affixed to the sheet polymeric material. Figure 10 shows the rail adhesively attached to the sheet 40.

12. The system of claim 2, wherein the sheet member comprises an extruded 6. The system of claim 5, wherein the rail is a polymeric material co-extruded with the sheet member. The system of claim 1, wherein the sheet member comprises: a wall of a file folder.

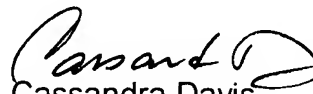

Conclusion

13. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents are cited to show file folders or dividers having slidable tabs: US 4,079,533; US 2003/0126779; UK 2021046; DE 3312789; JP 200005281; JP 10217664; FR 1031393; FR 1387346.
